We can provide the number of import permits granted and birds imported from New Zealand see table below.

Please note that:

- pet psittacine birds may only be imported from New Zealand at this time;
- we do not receive permit applications for pet birds from other countries as the owners usually enquire first and do not progress to the permit application stage once we have advised them that their bird is not eligible for import at this time
- pet birds from New Zealand are subject to a 'home quarantine' arrangement after import and do not go to Mickleham for post-arrival quarantine
- a permit may be issued for a consignment consisting of 1 or 2 pet birds
- a permit may be issued in one calendar year and the bird/s may be imported in the following calendar year – although the permits may only be used once, the period of validity allows the importer time to obtain any other necessary permits (e.g. wildlife trade permits) and conduct the preparation prior to import
- day-old chicks are not pets and are not imported into Australia, they are exported and may transit via an Australian airport from New Zealand to another country or vice versa.
