

Core documents for approved arrangement livestock exports

The core documents listed in Table 1 and importing country requirements are subject to change. The exporter is responsible for independently verifying the importing country requirements, as well as the documentation requirements for each market prior to preparing every consignment of livestock for export.

For markets with no agreed importing country requirements in place, core documents listed are indicative only. Exporters must obtain the importing country requirements from the relevant government authority and provide appropriate documentation to the departmental veterinary officer for certification.

For markets not listed in Table 1, and for exporters on provisional and full document inspection, all relevant export documents (core and non-core) as listed in the exporter’s approved Standard Export Plan for the specific market must be provided.

Note: All sheep exports out of Fremantle by sea require a load plan, load order and rejects list to be provided as core documents to all markets.
